SUBURBAN DEALS FALL OFF

City Property Exchanges Bring Total to 20 Per Cent Above That for Previous Week.

Realty trading for 1916 began in earnest this week, when the brokers closed one deal involving a consideration in excess of $100,000, two at $30,000 each, and others around the $25,000 A total of 120 transactions were concluded in the past six days showing a daily average of twenty trades. The week's business showed an increase of more than 20 per cent over the trading for the second week of January. The best day of the week was Wednesday, when twenty-nine sales were reported. Friday was a close second with its record of twenty-seven deals. There were twenty-two trades completed on Thursday, and nineteen on Tuesday. Monday witnessed the closing of fourteen sales and nine deals were reported on the half-holiday of Satur-marked decline in the sale of outlying suburban realty was noticeable this week, when that section dropped to this week, when that section dropped to third place in the race for supremacy of the market, being surpassed both by the near-urban district and the north-west. The race, however, was an ex-citing one, the record showing the three sections separated by one sale each. There were fifty lots transferred in the pear-urban district, forty-place lots in near-urban district, forty-nine lots in the northwest, and forty-eight parcels in the outlying suburbs. The southwist made a good showing, being the scene of the transfer of thirty lots. There were thirteen lots sold in the north-east and nine in the southwest.

West Virginia Investor.

Isaac T. Mann, of Barnwell, W. Va., was the largest investor in Washington real estate this week. He pur chased the property at 1128 and 1130 Connecticut avenue northwest, formerly occupied as the Walker-Hughes market, for $105,000. The property has a generous frontage on the avenue, and runs through to Eighteenth street. It is expected the building now on the property will be extended to cover the entire lot. Sylvester W. Labrot, the former owner, took a trust for $40,000 on the property. for $40,000 on the property, payable in three years, with interest at 4 per cent. This is the smallest rate of interest recorded on a loan of this size for several months. The stamps attached to the deed indicate the payment of $65,000 in cash.

for several mondal tached to the deed indicate the payment of $65,000 in cash.

The old Georgetown business section furnished one of the large deals of the week, when the Arlington Mills property, at Potomac and Water streets, changed owners at a consideration of $30,000. The property was acquired by the present tenants, Howard L. Wilkins and Samuel H. Rogers. The title had been held by trustees representing four financial institutions which had been creditors of the title L. Gillespie at 1533 New Hampshire avenue northwest for a price indicated by the stamps at 330,000, was another important transfer of the week. John H. Hewson was the purchaser. The house is of the three-story attle and basement type, and is of white stone construction. The frontage on New Hampshire and The frontage on New Hampshire avenue is twenty-five feet. The house extends through to Eighteenth street, where the frontage is about thirty-eight feet. There are about twenty rooms in the house. The new owner plans to transform the dwelling into one of the English basement type. Other alterations also are contemplated, it is stated.

The teacher is Mrs Mary Stevens, who takes the international church. Davis acquired the property from Ben-jamin E. Talbott, trustee, for $21,500, as suggested by the revenue stamps at-tached to the deed.

The loan market did not reflect the increased trading of the week but re-corded a decline of $50,000 from the rec-ord of the second week of the month. The exact figures in loans for the third week of January were $39,23,85. This week of January were $39,38.95. This sum was borrowed on the security of 114 lots at an average interest rate of 5.5 per cent.
